

Do you have

Rheumatoid Arthritis?

Are you starting treatment with a biologic, biosimilar or other new therapy?

The BSRBR-RA is a national research study that collects information from patients who are starting a biologic, biosimilar or other new treatment for Rheumatoid Arthritis. It is an observational study (not a clinical trial) so we simply watch what happens to you when your doctor prescribes your therapy. This data helps to better understand the long-term safety and effectiveness of these therapies.

You can find out more at www.bsrbr.org/for-participants.

If you are interested in participating, please speak to your rheumatology team to find out if you are eligible. They will give you an information sheet so you can see what is involved and take your consent if you would like to join.
